

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Topic:	Use of drugs by indigenous peoples	Cypress Hill and its advocacy for marijuana	Laws on drug use	Drugs & Democracy	Social effects of drug use
Objective:	To recognize the indigenous cultural value of using particular drugs and its implications	To interpret Cypress Hill lyrics and the Latino group's political activism. Discuss the impact of legalizing marijuana	To analyze the differences between Latin American laws on drug use and American laws regarding drug use	To show the relationship between the drug trade in Latin America and its effect on democratic freedom	To discuss the social significance that taking drugs has on a community; apply this to the effects that drug use has on the Latin American society
Literacy Aspect:	Learn new vocabulary; answer worksheet regarding video on indigenous drug use; journal entry: Should drug use be allowable if its use is noble and cultural?	Read article on Cypress Hill and discuss the arguments for legalizing or not legalizing marijuana; journal entry: What social responsibility do celebrities have regarding the use of drugs?	Read and interpret the laws regarding drug use in Argentina; journal entry: Do you think Argentinean laws regarding drugs are stricter or more lenient than the laws in the United States? Do you think these laws would help deter people from using drugs in Latin America?	Read the article, "Drugs, Democracy, and Latin America," by Michael Shifter;" journal entry: How does drug use hinder or help democracy?	Compare and interpret statistics regarding drug use in Latin American and poverty, economic stratification, prostitution, and education in Latin America; free write in class about the relationship between drugs and these social factors. Discuss.